Capstone option: Internship in English studies (ENGL3040)

Information for host organizations

Thank you for considering to accept one of our students as an intern in your organization.

The School of English at the University of Hong Kong is offering students in the English studies major the option to complete a capstone module in the form of a credit-bearing internship in a company or organization in Hong Kong.

Under the four-year undergraduate curriculum at HKU, all final-year students are required to complete a capstone module in their major(s), designed to allow them to draw together and integrate what they have learned in their studies and critically apply and consider it in view of their transition from a university environment into the community at large. The internship option of the English studies major is intended to offer students an opportunity to reflect on their classroom learning in connection with a particular workplace experience. Students are required to identify and secure a suitable workplace and to submit the completed confirmation of acceptance from the host organization (on the enclosed form), together with an outline of their capstone project, to the course coordinator when enrolling for the internship course. The confirmation of acceptance must specify, in brief, the conditions of the internship, such as its duration, the hosting business, department or office, and the proposed duties or activities that the intern will be expected to perform.

The duration of the internship is to be determined by the host organization, taking interns' status as full-time students into consideration, but should involve at least 36 hours of service. Students will be required to meet with the course coordinator and fellow-students once or twice during the semester in connection with their internship. Upon completion, students will have to submit a written report of approx. 2,000 words reflecting on their studies in the major in light of their workplace experience, an informational poster, and a letter from the host organization, confirming their completion of the internship according to the agreed schedule. The internship course will be assessed on a pass/fail basis and will not be counted in the calculation of CGPA.

Should you be willing to accept the student's application to complete an internship in your organization, please complete the confirmation of acceptance on the form provided and return it to the student for submission to the course coordinator. Information on the curriculum structure and programme learning outcomes of the English Studies major is accessible via https://english.hku.hk/Undergraduate/Curriculum/English_Studies. For further information or if you have any questions about the internship course, please feel free to contact the course coordinators, Dr. Nicholas Luke (nickluke@hku.hk) for semester 1 and Dr. Amanda Cheung (amanche@hku.hk) for semester 2 or by phone at 3917 2756.

Important note: Due to the unforeseen circumstances brought by the ongoing pandemic, students are advised to discuss with the host institution not only a plan for face-to-face internship, but also a contingency plan in case circumstances will require home office or a hybrid of face-to-face/ home office during the internship period. Students are also expected to keep the internship coordinators of HKU (Dr. Nicholas Luke (nickluke@hku.hk) for semester 1 and Dr. Amanda Cheung (amanche@hku.hk) for semester 2) informed of any updated arrangements or difficulties promptly during the internship period.
